“ I met Bryan for the first time when he came to get a massage from me. Bryan was a very charismatic guy. He loved telling me about his vacations with his wife and about his family. The love he has for his wife and his family made me smile. Everytime he came for a massage the first thing I asked was how was he and the family and what needed to be focused on this session. He told me all about how he went gambling and so many interesting stories. The last time I talked to him he said he was not doing good health wise and I wished him a speedy recovery. I just found out today that he passed. I'm still in shock that he is gone. My heartfelt condolences to his wife and his family. My prayers are with you.

“ This still doesn't feel real. I'll always remember your first Halloween with us. You were little and dressed up like Mickey Mouse. You were so amazed about getting free candy by going door to door that the next day, you put your costume back on to get more! We miss you so much and I know you'll continue to look out for Payton as her Godfather and uncle.

“ Bryan, this just don't feel real. I cannot believe that you are no longer with us. We have known you for years and there are so many memories that I will cherish for ever. I remember playing board games for hours with you and Michelle or going out for dinner. Tony and I were always looking forward to our game nights with you and Michelle. You were always so nice to everyone around you, and all that got to know you were lucky for that opportunity.

May God embrace you in his Glory. You will be missed.

“ Bryan when I first met you when we were working at All Star Movies, I knew right away you were a great person. You were always so fun to work with, laughing and joking and bringing smiles to the faces of Guests as well as people we worked with. I was so glad we got to be friends outside of work. You always were there to help when needed, and were so fun to be around. Thanks for all the fun times, late night dinners at Perkins, the driving lessons in the lugger, and letting us follow you and Michelle's adventures as you moved around the country. Your wedding was a blast despite a hurricane coming thru the day before, and that just seemed fitting for you, as nothing could stop you from marrying the love of your life. While I hadn't seen you and Michelle in a while, I was glad we were able to keep in touch via Facebook. You will be missed by everyone who knew you. Rest In Peace my friend!

“ Bryan,
One of my last clear memories of you is also one of my favorites. You, Michelle, and my family were all visiting my grandparents/your in-laws, and there was some big football game going on- I don't remember why it was so big, but it was. You, Grandpa, and I all decided that we wanted to watch the game, so we went out to some wings place. It was just so much fun trying to find a place, watching the game, then all talking about it after- overall, a very happy night.

This still doesn't feel real. I'm glad you are no longer suffering, but it is so difficult to come to terms with the fact that you are no longer with us. It's going to take a very long time for me to stop thinking things, "knock a half hour off if Bryan's driving him and Michelle," "what kind of car did he buy this time? I'll have to ask him, it's about the time that he gets a new one," and "I'll have to ask if he and Michelle want to come to a football game when it comes back". You were and are part of my family, and I miss you dearly.

Rest easy.

“ Bryan, you we're my poker buddy and friend. We played Cards probably every weekend for ten years. You were a trusted friend and good guy. Poker will not be the same without you.

God bless you and Michele.

“ My dear Bryan, I will forever keep you in my heart. You were a true friend and thanks to you and Danny, I was able to overcome many challenges in my life. You were there when I needed you the most and your friendship was a blessing to me. I will miss you buddy, and I will never forget the fun times we had. I remember going to out to diner, dressing up and having aliases, it was Mr. B (Bryan), The Boss (Danny) and me (The Bodyguard). Rest In Peace my dear friend.

Michelle, thanks for giving him everything he wanted in life, love and a happy home.

“ Dear Bryan, I will miss you so much. I can't believe I will never see your smile again or hear you laugh. You were a wonderful addition to our family. You are with our Lord, and we will meet again.

“ You were a good friend and so much fun to hang out with. Danny would come late so often because he was out with you and Rudy. He was the best man at our wedding. Even though time and distance removed you from our daily lives, we thought of you often, always with a smile and laughter at the memories. Even if you didn't agree with everything, he would still be your friend. That is the essence of friendship that he embodied. You will be missed my friend.

“ Bryan I will never forget meeting you at Claude & Annie's. You welcomed Kevin and I into your circle! We have met a lot of people because of you. I know we would bicker sometimes while playing poker, but we were like family and always moved on and couldn't wait to play the next weekend. You will truly be missed my brother. Until we meet again, rest easy!

“ We met you at poker and I was never happy you were at my table because you were such a good player I knew I couldn't get away with any shenanigans! You quickly worked your way into our family and our hearts! You and Michelle are among our closest friends and we are so fortunate to have been blessed with your friendship! You were always there for us if we ever needed anything including the day we packed up our Indiana home to move to Georgia! You surprised us by showing up with breakfast and an extra set of hands to help make our day easier! We will never forget your friendship or memories we had sharing adventures with you!

“ I spent Christmas Day in the hospital saying goodbye to the love of my life. I can't even begin to express the emotions that I am feeling right now. This still feels like a horrible nightmare and I am just waiting to wake up. But this is real and it is happening. I am so angry and heartbroken. The things I never got to say. And the things we never got to do. The things we would have done differently had we known this would happen.

I'm just at a loss.

I loved you from the first moment we met. I can't even describe all the joy I have felt with you in my life. It pains me to know that your life is ending so abruptly when we had so many plans for the future. Know you will always be in my heart. Go now and join our Shadow, Zoe and the rest of our family in heaven.

“ Dearest Bryan, My heart is so heavy. We love you so much. You taught me how to make the best turkey soup. I look around the house and I can see you watching TV, walking up the steps. You are all around me. I loved our trip to Hawaii. I told my friend there were two trips i wanted to take after the pandemic. One was with my sister and the other was the four of us going back to Hawaii. And I always told you you were the perfect husband for my daughter. May we find comfort knowing you are now in God's arms. All my love Kathy
