“ It is hard to put into mere words what Richard has meant to our family. My Mom met Richard when she had a major life change, the loss of my father. He too had lovingly taken care of an ailing spouse for a long time and immediately they were bonded by their common experiences of faith, family, and love. Richard filled a painful hole in my Mother's life. He challenged her mentally, socially and emotionally. He provided a purpose for a woman who found her identity in her family. We will always be so grateful to him for the love and care he gave to our Mother. Now my Mom is in a serious health crisis. Even now frequently we heard them on the phone, visiting, praying and encouraging each other. Their love took nothing away from their families but brought comfort and purpose for both of them. Thank you, God, for putting Richard into our mother's life and for taking him home to be with the Lord. We know now he is receiving his reward for the hard work and love he put into his family and beloved friends.
