“ In Adam's memory I share this poem which is dear to my heart...

*Do not stand at my grave and weep
I am not there, I do not sleep
I am a thousands winds that blow
I am the diamond glint on snow
I am the sunlight on ripened grain
I am the gentle autumn rain*

*When you awake in the morning hush
I am the swift uplifting rush of circled birds in quiet flight
I am the stars that shine at night
So do not stand at my grave and cry
I am not there....I did not die*

“ I hung around Adam quite a bit back around '99 and 2000. He would pick me up and take me to church. He was like a brother to me for those few years. Although I'd lost contact with him, I'll always have those great memories. He always made me laugh and liked to laugh at me as well. I read all of these positive comments about him and I am thankful to have experienced all of his great qualities first-hand. When some folks pass on, people have to lie a little to make them sound like they were great people. If you wanna make Adam sound like he was a good man, all you gotta do is tell the truth.

“ I had left Adam a message about doing my Mom’s house. He had done such a great job in years passed. Now I know why I didn’t hear from him. So sad to hear of his passing and my sympathy to his family. He was a great man.

“ I did not know Adam, but I am also a Pentecostal window cleaner and when they showed his picture on a window cleaning forum I follow I thought "that man is Pentecostal." I just want to offer my condolences and let you know that I could see it in a picture.

“ To my friend: As I sit here and try to figure out what to say I’m at a loss for words. So much to say yet the thoughts and memories are all flooding in at the same time. I’m going to miss so much about you, but probably the most is your laugh, your jokes, your smile, and your friendship. You are a man among men and I respect you so much. I probably didn’t tell you enough how much I appreciated your friendship. I know that heaven got a little bit brighter when your smiling face walked in. Keep the windows of heaven clean for us so we can keep our eyes focused on the prize. Love you bro.
