“ Blake was like a son to me - he and my son Austin were so close that I felt like they were brothers. Austin and I love Blake. I will never forget the day he called me last year and said "Marsha, I've got some good news for you - I got saved!!! I accepted the Lord as my Savior. I've never been more sure of anything in my life". I told him that was the best news he could have ever given me and I would continue to pray for him, like I always have. What a beautiful memory. :)

“ It was recess, 1990... All the kids were on the black top ready to play some soccer for the next 20 minutes. Blake and another little boy were called out as captains to pick teams. Without a single moment of hesitation Blake yelled out "I got April!" ...over every little girl, over every little boy, over every other kid waiting to hear their name. That is my first cognizant memory of a best friend. I have a million more moments to remember with Blake, and I don't know why but that one was a defining moment in my life that showed me there are people who really know how to love and how to be a friend, and will even risk being made fun of at recess for picking a girl over a boy, just to prove it. I thought he was so brave for doing that. He gave me confidence from that day forward. And I will cherish it and him and every other memory I have of him until the day I get to see him again. My heart is with all of you.
