“ I got to 'help' Chris set up for Kyle and Becky's reception. We had a great time!! Just got it done and laughed while stressed and trying to make it just 'right'. She was a generous caring soul and wish I had been able to spend more time with her.

“ Chris had such a loving soul and will be missed by many. She was like a mother to me, especially when my children were small...she was the kind of grandmother who really engaged with the kids and really enjoyed time with them. I always appreciated her for that - and for giving me a break from mom duties now and then! She was always there to lend a helping hand and did so with a smile on her face...one year she made my son a birthday cake that looked like a truck because he was so enamored with trucks at the time...and years later when my grandfather passed, she came to the funeral home and brought snacks for my family...that's just the kind of person she was...always living the Word and doing for others. She is in her savior's loving arms now and I'm happy she is no longer in pain...but we will miss you sweet Chris. Rest In Peace ❤️

“ Chris was one of the most generous people I have ever met. When she first entered our lives through my father, she immediately became part of our family. Amy and I were young, far from relatives, and Dad and Chris would always make time to help us out with the kids - whom Chris cared for as if they were her direct grandkids.

She was the perfect companion to my Dad, sharing in his love for travel, euchre, and family. They had such good experiences in so many wonderful places. I am so glad they had opportunities to experience the world together. Just imagine being in a small village in the Austrian Alps, and having the owner of the hotel ask what Chris was up to? Her personality, like her journeys, spanned the oceans.

What I will miss most about Chris is the way she would rush to hug you, the way she wanted to know how you were doing, and her continual effort to lift the burden from others. People serve, people take... and special people serve and get joy in that service. That was Chris.

I am so glad I was able to know her, and wish she had more time on this earth. All of us would have benefitted.

“ Chris was an amazing woman! The first time I met her was when Becky took me to her house to have dinner with her and Jim. Chris immediately welcomed me as part of the family and wanted to know when she was going to meet my two kids.

“ Chris was an amazing person and lived a remarkable life. My heart goes out to everyone who loved Chris.
I met Chris while traveling and staying at the Marriott Hotel on a weekly basis for two years. We became friends and spent many hours talking as she went about her work. Chris was such a joy to be around. I feel so lucky that I got to know her and I will always cherish our friendship.

May God wrap his arms around you and comfort you.

“ The most wonderful companion and loving partner (for almost 30 years) a man could have.

Years filled with joys and sorrows.

SICKNESS and health. Seriously, till death us do part story. We really did mean it. Most don't last 30 years today.

LOVE but no hate.

A million miles traveled lovingly together. Friends in several countries. (Ten days ago in Germany with friends of 18 years.) More in the next few days.

A wonderful grandmother to a ten year old boy who lost a loving caring lady that he loved to spent nights with, go to parks with, ride bicycles with. And she loved being able to take him wherever she liked -- just the two of them a hundred times or more. He loved her so much and rarely had to share her attention with other adults. And she never needed to share him with his mobile phone.

Her 16 year old grandson now could be taking her on outings from the confinement of a nursing home. And he would have loved playing the piano for her and at her memorial service.

She shared love so broadly that our lives will have holes in them.

My daughter, Rebecca (Winton) lost a loving mother and grandmother to her two boys.

I share this because very few of you saw how much love she spread around to family and friends. I got to see it daily and in all directions and spanning several countries.

Thank you Becky and John. She is in God's kingdom and will forever have peace. She can rest now without pain. We were blessed to have her in our lives and she will be missed deeply.

Chris was a wonderful woman whose love and care I was fortunate to experience. I got to know her during her travels to Athens, Greece, with Jim. Little did I know then that I would travel to the United States in the coming years and see her again, experience her welcoming spirit in her homes in Ohio and Indianapolis, and call her a close friend.

I recognized in her the warmth and love of a mother, and I saw her spread her unconditional caring touch across her family and loved ones. She was a fighter and never gave up. When the need was there, she would jump into action and extend a hand of help or encouraging words.

I am glad I had the chance to know her, and I will never forget her kind spirit.
