“ A "Loving Humanitarian" that was always there to help anyone. If he couldn't help at the time, he always had a plan and would be back with the tools it took, if needed. Years of relay for life at Howe, where he helped my team and many others, he was there to help! His heart wasn't there in words necessarily, but actions. Bud was a actin guy. A skilled tradesman by occupation and one that would teach and share his trades at the same time because he loved to help others.
