“ One of the finest blessings of our family’s lifetime is having been placed as next door neighbors to Elmer, Jane, and their family. From the first moment we met, which is quite a sweet story within itself, we knew we were destined to become very dear friends. Elmer and Jane were a tiny bit our senior, just enough to have more wisdom! They truly helped us raise our children, and we credit them with doing a fine job, serving as the best of role models. We had so many wonderful and meaningful experiences together. When we would talk and remember together, we would laugh and cry. They saw us through the most difficult time of our lives; giving us strength, support, and most of all love! They also shared some of our happiest of times. We cherish those times. The love of children was not only manifested in the love of their own children, their many beloved foster children, and all children they knew, including our own, it manifested in their hard work and assistance in the founding of Beech Tree House Curtis Wilson Primary School and Academy. Their ideas, encouragement, assistance, and hard work made the school a reality. It would not have existed without them. We shall be forever grateful! Elmer has been the finest of men. He was always gentle, wise, kind, hard working and delightful to be around; he made you happy! We loved him and will forever cherish our memories of him! We extend our deepest sympathy to Jane and the entire family. God bless Elmer and all of you. We send all our love and prayers. Love, Doyle and Linda Haywood and family.

“ As one of their foster children, I am particularly so sad to hear of Elmers passing. I got to reunite with them in person in 2020 after talking with them over the phone for several years. I will always treasure that time I got to spend with them. Such wonderful and loving people. Peace and love to the Boyer family. Love, Kelly Rinehart Teinert.
