“ Grandma, I miss you so much! I'm so grateful that we were able to have the relationship we did, even though distance and time took away from what we could have had. I have so many memories of you, laughing, smiling, scolding us kids, scolding Grandpa Bill when he was being funny! My favorite memory of the 2 of you was when we sat at your table to eat, and you asked him to say grace. I watched him even though we were supposed to have our heads bowed. He smiled a big, toothless smile, held his hands in front of him and in a loud voice said "Rub a dub dub, thanks for the grub, yay God!" and smacked his hands together then rubbing them as if to say "Let's eat!" Oh, I remember how mad you got at him, and I laughed inside because I thought it was funny, but not out loud because I knew I'd be next hahahaha! And of course the fire tower, where I discovered I was afraid of heights and couldn't move to come down, and your voice so strong saying "Hang on,Debbie, I'm comin' to get ya!" How mortified I was when my tiny little granny talked me down from the platform. And you with your little dogs - oh that Poco! You know how I felt about him! I will love you and remember you always, grandma. I miss you so much - oh I already said that. But it's true. Until we meet again - Love, Debbie
