“ All the times we would wait for mom to come home and scare her...all the water and shaving cream fights...waking me up in the early am just so we could go find something to do cuz he did not like being in the house on weekends. I have 25 years of memories of him and special moments tucked away in my heart. The best one was the smile on his face when I named my son after him. Now they are together!! I love you pops...ill be seeing you!

“ Thanks galena for the memory it reminded me of some memories I remember when we was kids I remember dad would hangfake spiders and snakes on the string to turn on the lights and scare sandyvand he would have ernie. Put rubber snakes and bubugs in sandy's bath water then when I had my kids he was staying with us and he would dress up stuff animals had them sitting in chairs and sometimes he would be in the middle and scare my kids and he would get mask and peck on the windows to scare my kids he was a funny man

“ I will never forget George. He used to have these fake spiders in his car and he knew I was scared of spiders. First time he came up and put one on my shoulder, I about lost it. For the longest time, he would make sure Ernie and I went to the state fair every year. About 8 years ago, he told me that he knew his son was hard to handle but please don't give up on him. It was kind of funny because his mom told me the same thing before she passed. The was the best complement I ever received from George. He will be missed and when I see him again, I'll make sure I tell my grandkids about the tydebowl man.
