“ Amazingly, the Indianapolis Colts found a replacement for Payton Manning but drafting a replacement for Mike Shea will be impossible. In good times and bad, this man loved his Colts! I am so deeply saddened for his family. Please be assured your son was a true gentleman and a great guy to be around. After only a few flights with Mike on the A300, we instantly had a connection with Indianapolis sports, his Colts and my Butler Bulldogs! After he moved back to Greenwood we talked often about making it to Hinkle Fieldhouse, something I will regret. My wife often recalls Mike's kindness the day we met him in Heneryville to see the beautiful neighborhood he purchased a lot in. In the early hours of the morning, as the pilot "sit in the sort", Mike always took time to ask how things were going. My last vision of him, will be Mike pulling his little two wheeler bag behind him as he heads out to his flight-his-wave-his-grin, follow by "have a good flight"! Our pilot group and my heart will forever feel an irreplaceable emptiness.

“ I met Michael through a friend last year and am envious of those of you who knew him so much longer. He could always make me smile and I learned so much from him. His calls and messages always brightened my day! His passion for music and his desire to make this world a better place were inspiring. He had the kindest, most compassionate soul and I will miss him terribly. I'll always remember his love of warm weather, the 49ers, and home design. Mike made such a positive impact on my life and I'll always remember what a fantastic friend, son, brother and uncle he was, and how he cherished those roles. I'm going to miss you, Fly Guy. My thoughts and prayers are with all of your family and friends as we navigate this sad, heartbreaking time, learning to live this life without you in it.

“ I met Mike during our initial 727 engineer training at UPS. We both eventually became A300 FOs. Mike and I had great experiences over all the years since our first acquaintance. He was one that would always listen and we had many lengthy visits at his apartment, home, or on the phone catching up on events and talking about building projects, work, politics, etc. Mike had a genuine interest in the health and happiness of all his family members. It was a joy to meet Mike at work late at night as he would always have something humorous to share. There are not enough words to describe the friendly demeanor of Mike Shea. You will be missed so much. Thanks for being a great friend. May you always have a tail wind and plenty of altitude below.
