“ Wishing you my condolences at this time of loss of your father, grandfather and loved one. I've had the privilege of working with Beth for several years now and I just adore her! One day she came into the office with several small paintings that James had painted and offered the paintings to our team. I immediately took one and to this day still have it on top of my desk hutch. So even though I never met James, I have a piece of his handy art work in my office.

My thoughts and prayers are with you at this time.
