“ The world lost a loving soul who will be deeply missed. His love for his family was obvious for all to see which made it even more special. From someone who does not have a relationship with their father, I loved seeing a WONDERFUL man interact and truly love his family and it always made me realize that incredible fathers really did exist and I was blessed to experience it. He made me smile and laugh each and every time I spent time with him....my only regret was that I had not seen him in a long time....which makes me grieve even more.

We love and miss you Papa Schaefer.

“ Kelly: I remember how very close you were to your parents. I have been there and I know how much my children's strength and love comforted me. A family that is close will survive because you all need each other and you will all be there for each other. The closeness of your family is a tribute to your father and his love for your mother and you. God bless and keep you all in His tender care.
