“ James, my best friend in high school. Whenever I would think of you it always brought a smile and chuckle when I think of the stupid stuff we did. Even though we haven't spoken to each other for many years, I'll miss you. Love and God bless you, and all my sympathies to Cleo and your brother.

“ I have many memories of James, all good ones. Back in 2008, After I had been in the hospital for a month and then went to Rehab for another 3 weeks, my own hairdresser, who I had been going to for year, would not come there to cut my hair.....but James did. He spent many holiday events with our family. James was a good soul. I will always remember him and he will always be remembered by many with the best of memories. My deep heartfelt sympathy to Cleo and family. Rest in peace dear friend.

I am so grateful we got to see each other this past January and relive our youth! God speed my life long friend. It was a pleasure to have you as part of my life. XO

Although we did not get a chance to socialize as much as I'd liked, know that I always loved and respected you, for how you've always treated me, as well as you're being very consistent with personality and friendship. Cleo, I am so sorry, mamma Jamie was loved by us all.*”

“ I'am both shocked and saddened at the news of James passing. My thoughts are with Cleo and family. I know that Steve Jones (aka) Cote' Rossmore held James and Cleo in the highest regard, and valued their friendship greatly.

I met you both at R-Place in Terre Haute in 1980. It has been a long time since i saw either of you. But i will always remember the way you helped Steve, and I will forever be in your debt.

*My condolences . If i can be of any help please don't hesitate to call.

“ I remember meeting the guy who lived across the street from my dad on Grant Street in 1996 and immediately feeling comfortable in my new neighborhood. Having cool friends nearby was a great thing for my dad and me. Little did we know that James would turn into one of my dad's best friends and help a little family with Barb Ellis, our other neighbor.

Back in ninth grade, James convinced me to lose the long '90s grunge hair and go with a short, clean look. I've been wearing it ever since.

James always hooked me up with birthday present and Christmas gift. He always watched me skateboard in front of his house. He told me that he hated the sound of the wheels on the sidewalk in the morning! I'll remember James as the coolest neighbor.

Without James, the loss of my father would have been much worse. He was at my house for three days until I moved back to Michigan. He and Barb were like an aunt and uncle.

My thoughts go to Cleo and James' family and friends. Thank you for being so good to my father, James.
