“ Pops was the absolute best father in law a girl could ask for. He loved me like his own. He always knew how to have a good time and make you smile. He was an amazing musician. He was the proudest dad and pappaw ever! I will miss him with my whole heart and I'm beyond thankful for this family he has given me. I love you Dad! We have one heck of a guardian angel that's for sure.

“ John was a fun guy to hang out with. He always tried to lighten up any given situation. He was very good at playing the guitar. Instead of going out and hanging out at the bars, we used to stay home and have jam sessions. The more the merrier. Playing, singing, tambourine, spoons, bongos, Drumming on the tables, guitars and bandose. Anything you could use a musical instrument that was used and we was singing with it. With a lot of fun. We weren't doing that we were playing cards if you didn't know a game we'd make a game up and just learn as you played. It was just a lot of fun and he was a lot of fun. We're going to miss you old man. We'll see up there with the Lord some day.
