

June B. Hill

March 29, 1916 - November 1, 2007

June B. Hill, A lady of courage, strength and dignity, passed away November 1, at her home in Windridge. She was born in Indianapolis, March 29, 1916. 1st child of C. Frederick and Agnes (Wilson) Fischer. June lived all of her life on the East side of Indianapolis, growing up in the Emerson Avenue Baptist Church where her parents were Charter members. She was a graduate of Tech High school and later worked and put herself through the Indianapolis School of Art and later Cranbrook Art School in Michigan. Her love of art was her passion and she traveled all over the world enjoying all types of art. She and her long time friend, Mandy Kirby spent one summer in Positona, Italy soaking up the culture. She married Joseph Feltz who precedes her in death and later met and married Samuel H. Hill ( an artist) and her soul mate, who also precedes her in death. June was an avid reader, enjoyed playing cards and earlier was a part of the Brendonwood Ladies Golf Group. She is survived by one brother, James Wilson Fischer and one niece, plus many friends who loved her dearly. Shirley Brothers Fishers-Castleton Chapel are handling the arrangements. A private service will be held in Oaklawn Memorial Gardens, 9700 Allisonville Road. In lieu of flowers, a memorial contribution may be made to Hospice Vista Care or a charity of your choice.
