“ Mom, I can't tell you how much I love and miss you already. You worked hard all my life to provide for me and keep a roof over our head. Thank you for loving me unconditionally and making me the man I am today. The last year has been nothing but an honor to have you in my house and to be able to take care of you till your last day, I wouldn't have had it any other way. Even though my heart hurts right now, I know your in a better place and there is no more pain. Tell grandma and grandpa I said hi. Don't worry about me mom, I know you will be watching over me and I have tons of friends that will help. The very last thing you said to me was IT'S GONNA BE OKAY BABE, and I know it will. Love you mom

I am so sad that you had to go Kathy, but I am so happy you are no longer in pain or misery. You were always a hard worker and I admired how you provided for your boy all by yourself. Every time I saw you I knew without a doubt you would be cracking a joke or would make fun or something that would bring me to laughter. You sure can be proud of Scott and the responsible person he is. He has taken such good care of you all this time. He is such a good son. My prayer is that you will rejoice in heaven with our Savior Jesus Christ who is in the Father and the Father God is in him. I also will be keeping Scott in my prayers. Fly high my friend and bring smiles to everyone who is with you. You will be missed.

Kathy, you weren't the smallest of the cousins but could get by with most things. We all played together in Grandma and Grandpa hay barn, tobacco barn, and creek. Such fun when were we kids. Miss you so much.

I haven't seen you since high school, but you were always kind and fun. You have always been a fond memory to me. I am sorry that you had to go, but I know you are in God's arms now and with those loved ones who went on before you. God bless your son. I know he has such wonderful memories. R I P Kathy!
