“ Dear Gene and Jean Marie I am so sorry for your loss. I have not seen you guys or Kelly in years but never forgot you all. We all was younger when we lived across the street. I watched him do alot of growing up in them seven years we lived there. I had to really laugh at him one night, he had cleaned up the Galaxy convertable and had changed the oil before taking it out for a drive. He came back later that night with the engine rattling and oil light on. He was so scared, we looked and he had changed the oil filter and the rubber had stayed on the block so when he installed the new one it leaked. He was afraid Gene would be mad, so like the good neighbor I was, I told him to remove the filter, the extra rubber, reinstall the filter and fill it back up with oil and put it back in the garage. Kelly was a great kid and grew up to be a good young man, father and husband. Kelly always had a smile on his face growing up and we all had fun setting on that old concrete wall and talk all night long. We will see Kelly again and believe me.... he will have the biggest smile on his face :) Till we meet again my friend Rick

“ This makes me so incredibly sad. It was so wonderful to watch Kelly & Kim's relationship from the very beginning. He was so madly in love with Kim and I could see it in his face as they talked in the hallway at work. Kim so deserved Kelly and they had a wonderful marriage. I'm glad they had the time that they did, even though it was way too short. God Bless you, Kim, your family and the Jones family. Kelly will watch over and wait for you.
