“ I feel incredibly honored to have known Gene, who treated me like a genuine brother during the years of marriage between his mother (Mary-Elizabeth) and our father (Myron F. Robbins Sr). His mom, Mary-Elizabeth, was not only a remarkable blessing to our dad, Myron Sr, in his later years, but through the remainder of her life she and her amazing children, especially Gene and Mary, inspired us with their warmth, genuine love and kindness. My siblings and I were all blessed by the wonderful relationship to the Stewart's, and the Robbins' will always be grateful for this connection that we were honored to have. Jerri, Angie and I share your sorrow, are praying for you all, and will always cherish our memories of Eugene Stewart, and his wife Mary. -- Dale A. Robbins

“ From time to time Gene would come over to the church to play the sanctuary piano while waiting for Mary to get her hair done. I enjoyed hearing him play favorite hymns and learned that he was an aficionado of ragtime. While there, he might share a story about how he and Mary met. Gene was a lovely man and I admired his values and devotion to his family.
