“ I'm a woman of faith but I feel so robbed today, it's to soon to say goodbye. I thank the Lord for your peace And for taking away your pain, but at the same time I ache with so much pain because I still need you. It hurts so bad you were taken so soon and unexpectedly. Lord help me threw this.

“ Lisa was one of my best friends throughout high school and college. No matter what we were doing or what the situation was Lisa was always the bright spot and had something positive or funny to share with our group. When I think of the thousands of memories I shared with Lisa it makes we want to cry because she was such a special friend and always there when I needed someone to talk to. I pray that someday I will see her again on the other side in the comfort of God's arms. God bless and Rest In Peace my good friend! You will surely be missed.

“ How do I even begin to share my memories of Lisa. We went through junior high and high school together practically living at each others houses. We became part of each others family. We laughed together, cried together, went on trips together with her mom and aunt. We shared weddings together and got together with our children when they were young. She always had a heart of gold and a beautiful smile. She will be so deeply missed.

“ I lived down the street from Lisa and her family. We reconnected on fb. She had sweet soul. We talked about meeting for lunch or dinner and it never happened. Sad about that. My prayers to her family!

“ You welcomed me into this family with open arms and loved me like I was your own. I'll miss randomly surprising you on my walks with Lani. I'll miss your meatloaf and carrot cake on my birthday. I'll miss your Christmas shopping updates promptly starting every year on July 1. I'll miss Sunday morning breakfast with extra bacon because you knew we couldn't wait until the potatoes were done.

I promise to take care of your son. I promise to always sear the roast on all sides. I promise to make sure we always have way to many pies at the holidays. We love you and miss you Momma Lisa. You look so happy in this picture and it makes me proud. 💜

“ A MOMENT AT DAYBREAK
by Mary Couch

*A pale pink rosebud
trembles in summer's wind shakes dew from its petals.*

*A monarch's tiny perch,
it welcomes the dawn's
wispy blush across a muted sky.*

*Caught by a gentle breeze,
butterfly floats from its perch
to be swallowed by morning light.*

*She too floats forth to greet the light.
We will meet her again around the bend.*

So sorry for your loss - Mary A. Couch

“ One of my last pictures of us, I miss you more than words could ever say. Your love was always unconditional for our family you were the rock that held us all together. Although I told you everything, there's So many things I wish I would've said And done. A piece of all of us went with you and pieces of you will be in our hearts and minds every single day. I love you mama 💔
