

Manisha Singhal

September 29, 1978 - July 5, 2020

Manisha Singhal, of Avon, passed away on July 5, 2020. She grew up in several cities and states across the United States. She attended Emory University, Atlanta to complete her Master's in Public Health.

Manisha always cared about people and especially children long before she even became a mother. Manisha worked tirelessly with children with autism while in college and has always been a strong advocate for children. Manisha volunteered at several events at Shiv's school such as Walkathon, Book Fair Photo Booth, Library Helper, and several other events. Manisha was creative, fun-loving and loved to compose songs, sing and dance.

Her upbringing inculcated sense of respect and kindness towards people from all walks of life. Above all, she was a wonderful mother and Shiv was the center of her life. She loved to help Shiv with his schoolwork, took him out to excursions, and encouraged him to participate in several extra-curricular activities like singing, dancing, and swimming. Manisha was a loving and caring daughter to her parents and enriched their lives.

Manisha and Shiv have left some wonderful fond memories with us that will never fade from our hearts. There are no goodbyes. Wherever they are, they will always be in our hearts. May their souls rest with the Divine in eternal peace.

Guestbook

AS

“ My dearest, beautiful daughter Manisha.

We are missing you and our beloved Shiv a lot. You both are in our thoughts every minute of the day. You were a great mom, you made sure that Shiv did not miss out on anything while in your care. You cooked Shiv's favorite food. You took him to beaches, water parks, museums, science centers, aquariums and a variety of other places. Shiv learned a lot from these trips. You were also so devoted in helping him with his academic skills in such loving manner by simply making it fun for Shiv. That song you composed for Shiv when he was six years old was definitely treasured by him. Shiv always had so much fun singing and dancing with you.

You were always there for me 100% as well. When I broke my knee last year, you spent countless hours taking care of me. You were under a lot of stress at the time, but you managed it all beautifully. You were a fighter and fought hard but fair all these years. I am sorry that we were not able to protect you from the unbearable pain you and Shiv had to endure during these years. Our lives will never be the same without you both but I try to find some solace in that finally you and Shiv are resting in peace with the DIVINE!

With Love Forever.

Mom

Om peace, peace, peace!

Anjana Singhal - July 15, 2020 at 09:54 PM

“ It was a "God" wink when Manisha reached out to me! We quickly became great friends and I told her she was my "Sister from another mother but we had the same diving Father!" Spent time with Shiv playing connect 4, walks, swimming & the park, we just had a picnic with him the previous Wednesday! She LOVED her son and did everything she could to protect him and was still losing! Her struggles with the legal system were UNJUST and now she has peace with Shiv. Manisha was a soft spoken, gentle woman that loved her son more than anything and to know he would be subjected to a life of abuse was more than she could handle. I know Manisha and Shiv are at peace in the hands of God and will always be safe!!

Kathy Frederick-Caldwell - July 15, 2020 at 05:28 PM