Max, is a great guy. He did his job well. He was proud of his family. He spoke of them with great pride. He was soft spoken and spoke ill of no one. God Bless his family with comfort for their loss and smiles of joy for memories to remember him by.

Max, I will miss seeing you walk into the office to make sure everything was done and done right. You always made sure things were done ahead of time. You were always so concerned, even through your sickness about the staff getting paid, and I admired that about you. You were fighting your own battles and yet, made sure we were ALL taken care of, including your family. I loved to hear you speak about your wife and how much you loved your family. I learned more from you than I even thought. I learned that family always comes first, that the work we do, must be done right and ahead of time if possible. Rest in the comfort that only JESUS and give. Until next time, Max.

“ I have fond memories of Max during our teenage years. Kokomo kids and Marion kids got together many times and had so much fun. Max had a nice car so he did a lot of the driving...even to Kings Island. Such good memories. My prayers are with the family during this time of loss.
