“ michael shawn childs was my father.. Unfortunately I lost him at a very young age and to this day i feel incomplete. every year it gets harder just knowing that he won't be around to see me accomplish things. most days i think he would be very disappointed in who i've become and that is very hard to take in.. i just want him to know that i am trying my best now to get the help i need to help cope with his death from 7 years ago and to help myself in general. i love him so much and no one can replace him. if it's not him, i don't want it, but i know that he wouldn't want me stuck on his passing. it's just hard to let go of someone so special. yesterday was his birthday and it was pretty hard, but i managed to get through the day with a smile on my face. i love him so much and miss him every day. happy birthday dad. i hope all your pain has gone away. <3

“ I worked with Shawn for many years at Fox Studios. He always had a big smile on his face and was a pleasure to work with day in and day out. Likewise, he was such a proud father, always keeping pictures of his children taped to his toolbox and always eager to tell you about them. He was a skilled craftsman and terrific person. I send my sincerest condolences to all of you, his family. Rest in peace, Shawn.

Those children in his toolbox weren't actually his. What you are recalling is actually called a sexual predator.
