“ Dick was a mentor, a coach and a friend. Dick and my Dad (Bob Coval) coached Rich and I in basketball back in gradeschool. Games were Saturday mornings. One week I spent Friday night at Rich's house. I remember there was a room in the attic above the garage. Anyway, apparently Rich and I stayed up most of the night...only to play horribly the next morning. No more Friday nights sleeping over! Lots of memories in those years - all the way through high school. Dick even bought a house from my parents years later. Condolences to all of Dick's family. To Rich - who I get to see from a distance many Friday nights - may you be comforted knowing your Dad made a difference in a lot of lives. God Bless. Greg Coval

“ Dick invited me to join the 40-40 basketball club in 1990. When his health started failing, I took over the group. We had lots of great times together in many venues including Hinkle Fieldhouse compliments of Bobby Plump. Dick was also involved in the sale and purchase of our homes. He was a gentleman and a good friend.
