“ I remember camping at Camp Atterbury in his trailer fishing learning how to shoot rifles and have a wonderful time all summer long what a wonderful person he was to us kids. He hurt himself in the mouth one night catfishing I remember getting sprayed by Skunk and having to take baths to get the stink off ,those we're always Treasured Memories that I will always have

“ He was a great guy when I knew him a long time ago. He showed me how to shoot a pistol when I was 5 years old. It was a Smith & Wesson .38 pocket pistol. I went to visit him some years ago and I told him I remembered shooting the pistol. He said "Wait just a second". He got up from his couch and went and got it and said. "Is this it". I was amazed that he still had it all that time. It was in real good shape too. Roger was like that. He didn't really ever change. Just the same to me that he always was. He taught me how to fish and camp. He was great!
