“ I was so sad to hear about Ron passing. I knew him as a true gentleman when I worked with him at Western Electric many years ago. In fact, he hired me as an engineer in 1977, so I am forever beholding to him and will never forget him. My prayers go out to his family and friends.

“ One of my favorite memories of Ron was when we were at the same grade school but several grades different, and I was being beat up by a bully, who was twice my weight. Suddenly there was Ron, he pulled the bully off of me, and hit him square in the jaw. The bully went down and Ron threatened him saying if he ever touched me again, or anyone else for that matter, he would get more of the same but a whole lot more! The bully was expelled soon after that but I never forgot my big brother coming to my rescue!
