“ I worked with Tom at General Steel for a long time and it was great to be around him. He offered his friendship to everyone which made for a good workplace environment. I have so many good memories of him that I couldn't begin to list them, it would take to long.

I had the opportunity to get to know his wife Sarah who was sweet and kind. When Tom lost her it caused him a lot of pain but now they are reunited and will no doubt have fun causing some mischief together in heaven. I also had a few chances to meet Tom and Sara's children (Robin, Sandy, and Tom Jr) over the years and I liked them all. Tom told me about a game that he used to play with the three of you which he call mousetrap. All I can say is that your Dad was an original thinker.

I don't know what else I can tell you and I really wish I could be with you tomorrow but unfortunately I can't make it. I will be thinking of all of you.

Just remember, whenever any of you get a little "down in the dumps" take time to remember something fun Tom told you or something he did with you and you'll feel better. Tom will be missed.

Sincerely,

Donald Dilley
