

Virginia Lee Spalding

August 4, 1915 - August 25, 2009

94, passed away peacefully surrounded by her family at American Village, in Indianapolis, Indiana on August 25, 2009. She grew up and lived in Danville, Indiana until she moved to Indianapolis at the age of 17. Ginny married James Norbert Spalding, who preceded her in death in 1981; together they had one son, Tom. She happily worked at the Uniroyal factory for 40 years. Some of her greatest joys in life were horseback riding, dancing the jitterbug, cheering for Tom at baseball games, cooking endless dinners for her ♠boys♠, rooting for the Purdue Boilermakers, and especially spending time being ♠Mammaw♠ to her three granddaughters. She also enjoyed summer evenings in her yard, nurturing her flowers, and chatting with neighbors over the fence. Her little white house where she lived for over 50 years was her pride and joy. Ginny is survived by her son, Thomas Joseph Spalding and her daughter-in-law, Patricia Nordstrom Spalding; her granddaughters, Kerry Spalding, Lisa Spalding and Sara Spalding (Patrick Price); and her great-grandchildren, Miguel Spalding-Price and Mariana Spalding-Price. Visitation for family and friends will be held on Thursday evening, August 27, 2009, 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. (reflections and prayer service at 7:30 p.m.) at Shirley Brothers Washington Memorial Chapel, 9606 E. Washington St., Indianapolis, Indiana 46229 www.shirleybrothers.com. Burial services will be private for family members.
